

KIDS-IN-A-BREAK: Providing Necessary Support for Children of Divorce Disclosure and Terms of Use.

People of Divorce, LLC is required to disclose the information below regarding your decision to purchase and engage in the educational course above:

- People of Divorce, LLC provides “KIDS-IN-A-BREAK; Providing Necessary Support for Children of Divorce (hereafter, “KIAB” course) as an educational experience designed to support parents and other adults assisting children through family separation and divorce with information, tools, and skills to minimize the negative impact and maximize the possibility of children continuing to function to potential and enjoy life on a daily basis as they experience significant family and living situation change.
- The KIAB course and all other courses provided by People of Divorce, LLC are designed as and are intended for educational purposes only. The KIAB course curriculum and experience is not intended, nor should be perceived as, the diagnosis or treatment of any mental health disorder. Consumers seeking such services should pursue evaluation by a licensed mental health professional or, if in crisis, should immediately seek care at a hospital emergency room.
- KIAB course curriculum and content is not designed as nor should be perceived as legal advice or legal representation.
- The KIAB course curriculum is designed to meet or exceed the educational requirements of United States state legislation county mandates for required 4 hours of education for parents of minor age children petitioning the Family Court for divorce. The KIAB course curriculum is acceptable to many county Family Courts in the United States. It is imperative that the consumer contact the Clerk of Court of the county where the petition for divorce is filed to ensure that a certificate of completion for “KIDS-IN-A-BREAK: Providing Necessary Support for Children of Divorce” from People of Divorce, LLC will be accepted by the court as meeting that counties parent education requirement. It is the responsibility of the student to submit the course completion certificate, which can be printed upon course completion to the Family Court, either personally or through designated attorney, prior to action for final judgment.
- The People of Divorce, LLC web site and all material, content, photos, videos, and products are owned, copyrighted, and/or trademarked and operated by People of Divorce, LLC located in Franklin, Wisconsin, USA. You may not modify, publish, transfer, sell, display or in any way exploit any material or content of this website and course in whole or in part.
- To engage and complete the KIAB course, consumers purchasing the course must have 1.) access to the Internet whenever engaging the course; 2.) the ability to print out the Course Manual; 3.) the ability to print out the Course Completion Certificate.

TECHNICAL POLICIES

- Consumer information gathered within the registration and payment process for the KIAB course will remain access exclusive to employees of People of Divorce, LLC employees and its technical support agents and are not sold to third parties for the purpose of marketing. People of Divorce, LLC will use information you provide to contact you about any services on our web site that you have expressed interest and to generate your account settings and credentials.

- If you are purchasing and completing the KIAB course to meet mandated requirement of your Family Court divorce petition, you will be required to provide the following within the registration process: 1.) Your full name as it appears on your divorce petition; 2.) the state and county in which your divorce petition is filed; 3.) your divorce petition case number. You will also be asked to provide email and other contact information. You will be asked to create a password and pay for the course. You will be asked to certify that you are the person completing the course to meet your divorce petition educational requirement. Any misrepresentations constitute fraud on the court and will be reported to the appropriate authorities.
- Consumers who are purchasing the KIAB course to meet Family Court educational requirement can, prior to printing the Course Completion Certificate, if not satisfied with the quality of education provided within the course experience, request a refund of the course fee. This option is not available to non-court mandated consumers purchasing the KIAB course.
- People of Divorce, LLC is not responsible for any client-side technical problems or challenges. This includes, but is not limited to, having the basic understanding of how to use a computer or mobile device, the compatibility of your computer or mobile device, Internet access/conductivity, and the use of any necessary software applications or programs.
- People of Divorce, LLC is careful in monitoring information which is downloaded or printed from our web site. Precautions are taken to protect our servers from viruses and other intrusions. However, People of Divorce, LLC assumes no responsibility, and shall not be liable for any damages or viruses that may infect your computer, computer equipment, mobile device, or other property due to your access to, use of, or browsing our web site or in downloading any materials.

By clicking the “I Agree” button as the person purchasing and intending to complete the KIAB course you are certifying that you have read and that you understand this agreement and agree to be bound by it. If you choose to click the “I Do Not Agree” button, your registration process will terminate.